HIGHLIGHT

A massive reef extends beneath the ocean's surface for a length of approximately 3 km. The dive is planned according to the current. For a while, you'll dive in open water, where you'll often encounter hammerhead sharks, silky sharks, and gray reef sharks. Then it's back to the incredibly beautiful reef, whose wall is covered with many hard and soft corals.

Description

A massive reef extends beneath the ocean's surface for a length of approximately 3 km.

The dive is planned according to the current. For a while, you'll dive in open water, where you'll often encounter hammerhead sharks, silky sharks, and gray reef sharks. Then it's back to the incredibly beautiful reef, whose wall is covered with many hard and soft corals. Swim past schools of fish along the beautiful steep wall to observe schools of jackfish, tuna, and barracuda.
