In this small channel, there are two small tilas covered in beautiful marine life. The larger one (Big Brother) is the quintessential "anemone spot." In the shallow area (between 5 and 12 meters), the tila is teeming with anemones. Also: Several loggerhead and green sea turtles live here.

Description

In this small channel, there are two small tilas covered in beautiful marine life. The larger one (Big Brother) is the quintessential "anemone spot." In the shallow area (between 5 and 12 meters), the tila is teeming with anemones. Also: Several loggerhead and green sea turtles live here.

We dive the tilas from the outer reef edge, which allows even beginners to explore this amazing spot. As in every channel, of course, there are big fish here too!
