More information

Cabins:

The Marco Polo has six spacious outside cabins on the main deck with ample storage space, even for suitcases and large bags. All double cabins are equipped with air conditioning and a private bathroom. Each bathroom has a rain shower, a handheld showerhead, a toilet, a large sink, and several 220 V outlets. The cabins themselves feature a modern design and are equipped with bunk beds with reading lamps, shelves, and a large charging station. Since all cabin doors open to the outside of the ship, you can let the fresh sea breeze into your cabin at any time.

Had enough of beds? Okay. If you'd like to enjoy the starry sky all night long, you can also set up camp on the huge sun deck to fall asleep under a breathtaking night sky and wake up to the first rays of sunshine.

Going beyond "standard Asian" specifications, the restroom facilities on the 'Marco Polo' are very spacious. In addition to two individual showers and two open-air showers, there are also three separate European-style restrooms with sinks.

Salon/Restaurant:

The spacious salon invites you to relax after your dives, watch the dive video you just recorded, or put on a CD. The rear section is open and furnished with tables and seating. This is also where the delicious meals are usually served.

Food:

Som, Da, and Meau are three trained chefs at your service. They prepare delicious meals and ensure that you'll want for nothing during your entire stay on the "Marco Polo" and that you'll fall in love with Thai cuisine. Of course, they also cook international dishes and spoil guests with such variety that any thoughts of dieting are quickly thrown overboard.

Diving:

The dive deck is covered, providing shade for your diving gear. Two wide staircases lead up to the dive platform, ensuring easy entry into and exit from the water. This is especially appreciated right after a dive. Since the boat uses a central compressor station below deck, filling the tanks is virtually silent.

Non-divers receive a 10% discount on the safari price.
