DIVE SITES

These safaris, some of which have an expedition-style character, take you to the largely unspoiled and unexplored southern Maldives. Here, you'll explore the reefs and channels of the Meemu, Laamu, and Thaa atolls. Alternatively, upon request, the itinerary can also include stops at Felidhoo Atoll (hammerhead sharks) and South Ari Atoll (whale sharks).

Description

These safaris, some of which have an expedition-style character, take you to the largely unspoiled and unexplored southern Maldives. Here, you'll explore the reefs and channels of the Meemu, Laamu, and Thaa atolls.

Alternatively, upon request, the itinerary can also include stops at Felidhoo Atoll (hammerhead sharks) and South Ari Atoll (whale sharks).

The tours visit well-known top dive sites but also have a genuine expedition-style character in some cases, as they explore completely new diving areas. They are therefore not suitable for beginner divers; the minimum requirement is Advanced Diver certification and 60 logged dives.
