DEPARTURES

Dear Parents, our kids' safaris are designed with the children's interests and needs in mind. Travel distances are kept short, and dive sites are selected to ensure that the young divers have a great time. We also make sure there is plenty of time for other activities besides diving, such as swimming, snorkeling, or playing.

Description

Dear Parents, our kids' safaris are designed with the children's interests and needs in mind. Travel distances are kept short, and dive sites are selected to ensure that the young divers have a great time. We also make sure there is plenty of time for other activities besides diving, such as swimming, snorkeling, or playing.

The safari starts in Port Gahlib, heads south, and ends back in Port Gahlib.

These kids' safaris are designed to be both a relaxing getaway and a shared experience for parents and children alike. We'll guide your children through the fantastic underwater world of the Red Sea while you and your partner enjoy relaxed dives together. Of course, further training for parents and children is also available during these safaris. We'll also provide you, as parents, with special instruction on how to handle children while diving, to prepare you for future vacations together
